

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published daily (Sundays excepted).
FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Prop'rs,
 At No. 26 and 27 West Main Street.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.
 One copy per year, $5.00 (Three months, $1.50).
 One copy per month, 50 cents.
 Delivered by carriers in city, 10c per week.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 Great reduction to Clubs. Send for sample copy and circular. Address.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
 Wheeling, W. Va.
 [Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.]

WHEELING, W. VA., OCTOBER 12, 1883.

Randall's Utterance.

Mr. Randall was in Ohio the week before election, and, of course, made several speeches. The fact that he made speeches is not important in itself, but the fact that he is being looked upon as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives is of some interest.

Many of his phrases were in the nature of stereotyped attacks on the Republican party that it fostered monopoly, which has been the illogical cry of the party without an issue from time immemorial.

On the tariff, however, he presents an anomaly in Democratic principles that is refreshing. For instance, he said in his speech at Cleveland: "Having got rid of internal taxation, which last year was $10,000,000, just the amount of the surplus, I would provide money to carry on the government by levying it upon the imports of the country, so that it shall incidentally encourage and protect American manufacturers, and so that we can pay the American laborer good wages, that he may not be compelled to compete with foreign pauper labor. The tax should be levied on a business principle. If I had the power I would bring out about free trade in this country. There is no government that does establish or has established a free trade system."

England repealed her corn laws because she couldn't grow and feed her people for a longer period than six months. If you want a fair sample of English free trade, look at poor down-trodden Ireland, whose courage history does not repeat in six hundred years. Look at the condition of things in British India. There England has been dominant by war only. Does England let the manufacturers of America get into India with a pound of iron? No. We don't want to reduce the dignified labor of the United States to the level of the pauper labor of England."

This is good Republican doctrine, and we are curious to see what the free trade Democratic party is going to do about it.

A New Invention.
 The electrical exhibition at Vienna has brought out many curious inventions, but none less novel than the glosograph, which produces speech as uttered, recording on paper tracings characteristic of the various sounds produced in speaking.

A scientist describing the machine, which resembles Edison's phonograph, says, a person wishing to employ the glosograph to commit his words to paper puts in his mouth against the roof—a small instrument so constructed as to be thrown into vibrations by the various motions of the organs of articulation. It is connected by small wires with an electro-magnetic registering apparatus, which does the work of inscribing on a sheet of paper the markings or tracings characteristic of each sound uttered. The speaker suffers no inconvenience from the presence of the "sender" in his mouth, needing only to articulate correctly and distinctly to produce symbols, each recognizable, after some experience, as belonging to a certain sound. According to the inventor's calculation, the use of the glosograph will enable the hurried business man to commit his thoughts to paper with a speed four times that of the quickest writer.

PERSONAL.
 Senator Sharon pays 10 per cent of all the taxes collected in San Francisco. The Marquis de Lorne has sent two buffaloes to Scotland for breeding purposes. Robert J. Burdette has recovered from his recent injuries and is lecturing again. Paul Dana, heir prospective to the New York Sun, is said to own 800 blooded dogs. John Kelly, the Tammany chief, sees fit to deny the rumor that he is to retire from politics.

Mr. Pomeroy, "Buck," admits that he recently thought of becoming the "Ben Butler" of Colorado.

Captain John S. Wise, the Virginia politician, said in a speech at Louisa Court House the other night: "I vote for Arthur for President every time."

Jay Gould has been snubbed enough by the laughastronomy of Newport, and he now proposes to set up a little summer resort of his own at Burn's Point, L. I.

Mr. Ma, or "America" Ma, the Chinese Minister's infant daughter, recently born in Washington, has her little feet already bandaged, that they may remain of proper dimensions.

Mrs. Langtry won in the beauty ballot in England, leading the poll with 819 votes. Daisy Vane received 758; Miss Fortescue, 119; Miss Welden, 73; and The Peerless Evelyn Rayne only 11. A new poll for the handsomest man in the world, says that during his last European trip he was impressed with the importance of places of amusement. He is satisfied that no city can thrive as it should without theatres, gardens, parks and the like. While the old folks are "tired," the young folks are seeking fun. Every city should make itself attractive.

John Locke King, member of Parliament for the city of London, is one of the most careless men as regards dress, generally wearing a suit of clothes of which his valet would be ashamed. One day King called upon the Duchess of ———. At the door he was confronted by a magnificent flunkey. "Is her Grace at home?" asked the distinguished visitor. "My good man," replied the flunkey, after surveying Mr. King for a while through his single eyeglasses, "do you think that her Grace would like to see a person of your appearance?" "Don't know; I'll see," replied Mr. King, and pushing by the flunkey, went upstairs, and sent his card to the Duchess.

BREAKFAST SUGGEST.
 Texas has over $2,000,000 in her treasury. Denver will put up $1,250,000 worth of new buildings in the next year. There are over 200,000 children in Alabama who do not attend school. The Chinese of Portland, Oregon, are assessed for $145,200 worth of real property. Cats are now bred in Paris that their heads may be used for ornamenting hats. The forge of the United States Arsenal at Watertown, Mass., is to be opened for the first time in ten years to alter twenty-five gun-carriages.

It is stated that the poisoning of the elephant at the Imperial Menagerie at Schonbrunn was effected by the use of 500 grains of prussic acid. He died in eight minutes. The prisoners in the jail at Gonzales, Tenn., have their own code of laws and

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published daily (Sundays excepted).
FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Prop'rs,
 At No. 26 and 27 West Main Street.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.
 One copy per year, $5.00 (Three months, $1.50).
 One copy per month, 50 cents.
 Delivered by carriers in city, 10c per week.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 Great reduction to Clubs. Send for sample copy and circular. Address.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
 Wheeling, W. Va.
 [Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.]

WHEELING, W. VA., OCTOBER 12, 1883.

Randall's Utterance.

Mr. Randall was in Ohio the week before election, and, of course, made several speeches. The fact that he made speeches is not important in itself, but the fact that he is being looked upon as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives is of some interest.

Many of his phrases were in the nature of stereotyped attacks on the Republican party that it fostered monopoly, which has been the illogical cry of the party without an issue from time immemorial.

On the tariff, however, he presents an anomaly in Democratic principles that is refreshing. For instance, he said in his speech at Cleveland: "Having got rid of internal taxation, which last year was $10,000,000, just the amount of the surplus, I would provide money to carry on the government by levying it upon the imports of the country, so that it shall incidentally encourage and protect American manufacturers, and so that we can pay the American laborer good wages, that he may not be compelled to compete with foreign pauper labor. The tax should be levied on a business principle. If I had the power I would bring out about free trade in this country. There is no government that does establish or has established a free trade system."

England repealed her corn laws because she couldn't grow and feed her people for a longer period than six months. If you want a fair sample of English free trade, look at poor down-trodden Ireland, whose courage history does not repeat in six hundred years. Look at the condition of things in British India. There England has been dominant by war only. Does England let the manufacturers of America get into India with a pound of iron? No. We don't want to reduce the dignified labor of the United States to the level of the pauper labor of England."

This is good Republican doctrine, and we are curious to see what the free trade Democratic party is going to do about it.

A New Invention.
 The electrical exhibition at Vienna has brought out many curious inventions, but none less novel than the glosograph, which produces speech as uttered, recording on paper tracings characteristic of the various sounds produced in speaking.

A scientist describing the machine, which resembles Edison's phonograph, says, a person wishing to employ the glosograph to commit his words to paper puts in his mouth against the roof—a small instrument so constructed as to be thrown into vibrations by the various motions of the organs of articulation. It is connected by small wires with an electro-magnetic registering apparatus, which does the work of inscribing on a sheet of paper the markings or tracings characteristic of each sound uttered. The speaker suffers no inconvenience from the presence of the "sender" in his mouth, needing only to articulate correctly and distinctly to produce symbols, each recognizable, after some experience, as belonging to a certain sound. According to the inventor's calculation, the use of the glosograph will enable the hurried business man to commit his thoughts to paper with a speed four times that of the quickest writer.

PERSONAL.
 Senator Sharon pays 10 per cent of all the taxes collected in San Francisco. The Marquis de Lorne has sent two buffaloes to Scotland for breeding purposes. Robert J. Burdette has recovered from his recent injuries and is lecturing again. Paul Dana, heir prospective to the New York Sun, is said to own 800 blooded dogs. John Kelly, the Tammany chief, sees fit to deny the rumor that he is to retire from politics.

Mr. Pomeroy, "Buck," admits that he recently thought of becoming the "Ben Butler" of Colorado.

Captain John S. Wise, the Virginia politician, said in a speech at Louisa Court House the other night: "I vote for Arthur for President every time."

Jay Gould has been snubbed enough by the laughastronomy of Newport, and he now proposes to set up a little summer resort of his own at Burn's Point, L. I.

Mr. Ma, or "America" Ma, the Chinese Minister's infant daughter, recently born in Washington, has her little feet already bandaged, that they may remain of proper dimensions.

Mrs. Langtry won in the beauty ballot in England, leading the poll with 819 votes. Daisy Vane received 758; Miss Fortescue, 119; Miss Welden, 73; and The Peerless Evelyn Rayne only 11. A new poll for the handsomest man in the world, says that during his last European trip he was impressed with the importance of places of amusement. He is satisfied that no city can thrive as it should without theatres, gardens, parks and the like. While the old folks are "tired," the young folks are seeking fun. Every city should make itself attractive.

John Locke King, member of Parliament for the city of London, is one of the most careless men as regards dress, generally wearing a suit of clothes of which his valet would be ashamed. One day King called upon the Duchess of ———. At the door he was confronted by a magnificent flunkey. "Is her Grace at home?" asked the distinguished visitor. "My good man," replied the flunkey, after surveying Mr. King for a while through his single eyeglasses, "do you think that her Grace would like to see a person of your appearance?" "Don't know; I'll see," replied Mr. King, and pushing by the flunkey, went upstairs, and sent his card to the Duchess.

BREAKFAST SUGGEST.
 Texas has over $2,000,000 in her treasury. Denver will put up $1,250,000 worth of new buildings in the next year. There are over 200,000 children in Alabama who do not attend school. The Chinese of Portland, Oregon, are assessed for $145,200 worth of real property. Cats are now bred in Paris that their heads may be used for ornamenting hats. The forge of the United States Arsenal at Watertown, Mass., is to be opened for the first time in ten years to alter twenty-five gun-carriages.

It is stated that the poisoning of the elephant at the Imperial Menagerie at Schonbrunn was effected by the use of 500 grains of prussic acid. He died in eight minutes. The prisoners in the jail at Gonzales, Tenn., have their own code of laws and

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published daily (Sundays excepted).
FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Prop'rs,
 At No. 26 and 27 West Main Street.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.
 One copy per year, $5.00 (Three months, $1.50).
 One copy per month, 50 cents.
 Delivered by carriers in city, 10c per week.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 Great reduction to Clubs. Send for sample copy and circular. Address.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
 Wheeling, W. Va.
 [Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.]

WHEELING, W. VA., OCTOBER 12, 1883.

Randall's Utterance.

Mr. Randall was in Ohio the week before election, and, of course, made several speeches. The fact that he made speeches is not important in itself, but the fact that he is being looked upon as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives is of some interest.

Many of his phrases were in the nature of stereotyped attacks on the Republican party that it fostered monopoly, which has been the illogical cry of the party without an issue from time immemorial.

On the tariff, however, he presents an anomaly in Democratic principles that is refreshing. For instance, he said in his speech at Cleveland: "Having got rid of internal taxation, which last year was $10,000,000, just the amount of the surplus, I would provide money to carry on the government by levying it upon the imports of the country, so that it shall incidentally encourage and protect American manufacturers, and so that we can pay the American laborer good wages, that he may not be compelled to compete with foreign pauper labor. The tax should be levied on a business principle. If I had the power I would bring out about free trade in this country. There is no government that does establish or has established a free trade system."

England repealed her corn laws because she couldn't grow and feed her people for a longer period than six months. If you want a fair sample of English free trade, look at poor down-trodden Ireland, whose courage history does not repeat in six hundred years. Look at the condition of things in British India. There England has been dominant by war only. Does England let the manufacturers of America get into India with a pound of iron? No. We don't want to reduce the dignified labor of the United States to the level of the pauper labor of England."

This is good Republican doctrine, and we are curious to see what the free trade Democratic party is going to do about it.

A New Invention.
 The electrical exhibition at Vienna has brought out many curious inventions, but none less novel than the glosograph, which produces speech as uttered, recording on paper tracings characteristic of the various sounds produced in speaking.

A scientist describing the machine, which resembles Edison's phonograph, says, a person wishing to employ the glosograph to commit his words to paper puts in his mouth against the roof—a small instrument so constructed as to be thrown into vibrations by the various motions of the organs of articulation. It is connected by small wires with an electro-magnetic registering apparatus, which does the work of inscribing on a sheet of paper the markings or tracings characteristic of each sound uttered. The speaker suffers no inconvenience from the presence of the "sender" in his mouth, needing only to articulate correctly and distinctly to produce symbols, each recognizable, after some experience, as belonging to a certain sound. According to the inventor's calculation, the use of the glosograph will enable the hurried business man to commit his thoughts to paper with a speed four times that of the quickest writer.

PERSONAL.
 Senator Sharon pays 10 per cent of all the taxes collected in San Francisco. The Marquis de Lorne has sent two buffaloes to Scotland for breeding purposes. Robert J. Burdette has recovered from his recent injuries and is lecturing again. Paul Dana, heir prospective to the New York Sun, is said to own 800 blooded dogs. John Kelly, the Tammany chief, sees fit to deny the rumor that he is to retire from politics.

Mr. Pomeroy, "Buck," admits that he recently thought of becoming the "Ben Butler" of Colorado.

Captain John S. Wise, the Virginia politician, said in a speech at Louisa Court House the other night: "I vote for Arthur for President every time."

Jay Gould has been snubbed enough by the laughastronomy of Newport, and he now proposes to set up a little summer resort of his own at Burn's Point, L. I.

Mr. Ma, or "America" Ma, the Chinese Minister's infant daughter, recently born in Washington, has her little feet already bandaged, that they may remain of proper dimensions.

Mrs. Langtry won in the beauty ballot in England, leading the poll with 819 votes. Daisy Vane received 758; Miss Fortescue, 119; Miss Welden, 73; and The Peerless Evelyn Rayne only 11. A new poll for the handsomest man in the world, says that during his last European trip he was impressed with the importance of places of amusement. He is satisfied that no city can thrive as it should without theatres, gardens, parks and the like. While the old folks are "tired," the young folks are seeking fun. Every city should make itself attractive.

John Locke King, member of Parliament for the city of London, is one of the most careless men as regards dress, generally wearing a suit of clothes of which his valet would be ashamed. One day King called upon the Duchess of ———. At the door he was confronted by a magnificent flunkey. "Is her Grace at home?" asked the distinguished visitor. "My good man," replied the flunkey, after surveying Mr. King for a while through his single eyeglasses, "do you think that her Grace would like to see a person of your appearance?" "Don't know; I'll see," replied Mr. King, and pushing by the flunkey, went upstairs, and sent his card to the Duchess.

BREAKFAST SUGGEST.
 Texas has over $2,000,000 in her treasury. Denver will put up $1,250,000 worth of new buildings in the next year. There are over 200,000 children in Alabama who do not attend school. The Chinese of Portland, Oregon, are assessed for $145,200 worth of real property. Cats are now bred in Paris that their heads may be used for ornamenting hats. The forge of the United States Arsenal at Watertown, Mass., is to be opened for the first time in ten years to alter twenty-five gun-carriages.

It is stated that the poisoning of the elephant at the Imperial Menagerie at Schonbrunn was effected by the use of 500 grains of prussic acid. He died in eight minutes. The prisoners in the jail at Gonzales, Tenn., have their own code of laws and

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published daily (Sundays excepted).
FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Prop'rs,
 At No. 26 and 27 West Main Street.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.
 One copy per year, $5.00 (Three months, $1.50).
 One copy per month, 50 cents.
 Delivered by carriers in city, 10c per week.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 Great reduction to Clubs. Send for sample copy and circular. Address.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
 Wheeling, W. Va.
 [Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.]

WHEELING, W. VA., OCTOBER 12, 1883.

Randall's Utterance.

Mr. Randall was in Ohio the week before election, and, of course, made several speeches. The fact that he made speeches is not important in itself, but the fact that he is being looked upon as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives is of some interest.

Many of his phrases were in the nature of stereotyped attacks on the Republican party that it fostered monopoly, which has been the illogical cry of the party without an issue from time immemorial.

On the tariff, however, he presents an anomaly in Democratic principles that is refreshing. For instance, he said in his speech at Cleveland: "Having got rid of internal taxation, which last year was $10,000,000, just the amount of the surplus, I would provide money to carry on the government by levying it upon the imports of the country, so that it shall incidentally encourage and protect American manufacturers, and so that we can pay the American laborer good wages, that he may not be compelled to compete with foreign pauper labor. The tax should be levied on a business principle. If I had the power I would bring out about free trade in this country. There is no government that does establish or has established a free trade system."

England repealed her corn laws because she couldn't grow and feed her people for a longer period than six months. If you want a fair sample of English free trade, look at poor down-trodden Ireland, whose courage history does not repeat in six hundred years. Look at the condition of things in British India. There England has been dominant by war only. Does England let the manufacturers of America get into India with a pound of iron? No. We don't want to reduce the dignified labor of the United States to the level of the pauper labor of England."

This is good Republican doctrine, and we are curious to see what the free trade Democratic party is going to do about it.

A New Invention.
 The electrical exhibition at Vienna has brought out many curious inventions, but none less novel than the glosograph, which produces speech as uttered, recording on paper tracings characteristic of the various sounds produced in speaking.

A scientist describing the machine, which resembles Edison's phonograph, says, a person wishing to employ the glosograph to commit his words to paper puts in his mouth against the roof—a small instrument so constructed as to be thrown into vibrations by the various motions of the organs of articulation. It is connected by small wires with an electro-magnetic registering apparatus, which does the work of inscribing on a sheet of paper the markings or tracings characteristic of each sound uttered. The speaker suffers no inconvenience from the presence of the "sender" in his mouth, needing only to articulate correctly and distinctly to produce symbols, each recognizable, after some experience, as belonging to a certain sound. According to the inventor's calculation, the use of the glosograph will enable the hurried business man to commit his thoughts to paper with a speed four times that of the quickest writer.

PERSONAL.
 Senator Sharon pays 10 per cent of all the taxes collected in San Francisco. The Marquis de Lorne has sent two buffaloes to Scotland for breeding purposes. Robert J. Burdette has recovered from his recent injuries and is lecturing again. Paul Dana, heir prospective to the New York Sun, is said to own 800 blooded dogs. John Kelly, the Tammany chief, sees fit to deny the rumor that he is to retire from politics.

Mr. Pomeroy, "Buck," admits that he recently thought of becoming the "Ben Butler" of Colorado.

Captain John S. Wise, the Virginia politician, said in a speech at Louisa Court House the other night: "I vote for Arthur for President every time."

Jay Gould has been snubbed enough by the laughastronomy of Newport, and he now proposes to set up a little summer resort of his own at Burn's Point, L. I.

Mr. Ma, or "America" Ma, the Chinese Minister's infant daughter, recently born in Washington, has her little feet already bandaged, that they may remain of proper dimensions.

Mrs. Langtry won in the beauty ballot in England, leading the poll with 819 votes. Daisy Vane received 758; Miss Fortescue, 119; Miss Welden, 73; and The Peerless Evelyn Rayne only 11. A new poll for the handsomest man in the world, says that during his last European trip he was impressed with the importance of places of amusement. He is satisfied that no city can thrive as it should without theatres, gardens, parks and the like. While the old folks are "tired," the young folks are seeking fun. Every city should make itself attractive.

John Locke King, member of Parliament for the city of London, is one of the most careless men as regards dress, generally wearing a suit of clothes of which his valet would be ashamed. One day King called upon the Duchess of ———. At the door he was confronted by a magnificent flunkey. "Is her Grace at home?" asked the distinguished visitor. "My good man," replied the flunkey, after surveying Mr. King for a while through his single eyeglasses, "do you think that her Grace would like to see a person of your appearance?" "Don't know; I'll see," replied Mr. King, and pushing by the flunkey, went upstairs, and sent his card to the Duchess.

BREAKFAST SUGGEST.
 Texas has over $2,000,000 in her treasury. Denver will put up $1,250,000 worth of new buildings in the next year. There are over 200,000 children in Alabama who do not attend school. The Chinese of Portland, Oregon, are assessed for $145,200 worth of real property. Cats are now bred in Paris that their heads may be used for ornamenting hats. The forge of the United States Arsenal at Watertown, Mass., is to be opened for the first time in ten years to alter twenty-five gun-carriages.

It is stated that the poisoning of the elephant at the Imperial Menagerie at Schonbrunn was effected by the use of 500 grains of prussic acid. He died in eight minutes. The prisoners in the jail at Gonzales, Tenn., have their own code of laws and

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published daily (Sundays excepted).
FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Prop'rs,
 At No. 26 and 27 West Main Street.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.
 One copy per year, $5.00 (Three months, $1.50).
 One copy per month, 50 cents.
 Delivered by carriers in city, 10c per week.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 One year, $5.00 (Six months, $3.00).
 Great reduction to Clubs. Send for sample copy and circular. Address.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
 Wheeling, W. Va.
 [Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.]

WHEELING, W. VA., OCTOBER 12, 1883.

Randall's Utterance.

Mr. Randall was in Ohio the week before election, and, of course, made several speeches. The fact that he made speeches is not important in itself, but the fact that he is being looked upon as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives is of some interest.

Many of his phrases were in the nature of stereotyped attacks on the Republican party that it fostered monopoly, which has been the illogical cry of the party without an issue from time immemorial.

On the tariff, however, he presents an anomaly in Democratic principles that is refreshing. For instance, he said in his speech at Cleveland: "Having got rid of internal taxation, which last year was $10,000,000, just the amount of the surplus, I would provide money to carry on the government by levying it upon the imports of the country, so that it shall incidentally encourage and protect American manufacturers, and so that we can pay the American laborer good wages, that he may not be compelled to compete with foreign pauper labor. The tax should be levied on a business principle. If I had the power I would bring out about free trade in this country. There is no government that does establish or has established a free trade system."

England repealed her corn laws because she couldn't grow and feed her people for a longer period than six months. If you want a fair sample of English free trade, look at poor down-trodden Ireland, whose courage history does not repeat in six hundred years. Look at the condition of things in British India. There England has been dominant by war only. Does England let the manufacturers of America get into India with a pound of iron? No. We don't want to reduce the dignified labor of the United States to the level of the pauper labor of England."

This is good Republican doctrine, and we are curious to see what the free trade Democratic party is going to do about it.

A New Invention.
 The electrical exhibition at Vienna has brought out many curious inventions, but none less novel than the glosograph, which produces speech as uttered, recording on paper tracings characteristic of the various sounds produced in speaking.

A scientist describing the machine, which resembles Edison's phonograph, says, a person wishing to employ the glosograph to commit his words to paper puts in his mouth against the roof—a small instrument so constructed as to be thrown into vibrations by the various motions of the organs of articulation. It is connected by small wires with an electro-magnetic registering apparatus, which does the work of inscribing on a sheet of paper the markings or tracings characteristic of each sound uttered. The speaker suffers no inconvenience from the presence of the "sender" in his mouth, needing only to articulate correctly and distinctly to produce symbols, each recognizable, after some experience, as belonging to a certain sound. According to the inventor's calculation, the use of the glosograph will enable the hurried business man to commit his thoughts to paper with a speed four times that of the quickest writer.

PERSONAL.
 Senator Sharon pays 10 per cent of all the taxes collected in San Francisco. The Marquis de Lorne has sent two buffaloes to Scotland for breeding purposes. Robert J. Burdette has recovered from his recent injuries and is lecturing again. Paul Dana, heir prospective to the New York Sun, is said to own 800 blooded dogs. John Kelly, the Tammany chief, sees fit to deny the rumor that he is to retire from politics.

Mr. Pomeroy, "Buck," admits that he recently thought of becoming the "Ben Butler" of Colorado.

Captain John S. Wise, the Virginia politician, said in a speech at Louisa Court House the other night: "I vote for Arthur for President every time."

Jay Gould has been snubbed enough by the laughastronomy of Newport, and he now proposes to set up a little summer resort of his own at Burn's Point, L. I.

Mr. Ma, or "America" Ma, the Chinese Minister's infant daughter, recently born in Washington, has her little feet already bandaged, that they may remain of proper dimensions.

Mrs. Langtry won in the beauty ballot in England, leading the poll with 819 votes. Daisy Vane received 758; Miss Fortescue, 119; Miss Welden, 73; and The Peerless Evelyn Rayne only 11. A new poll for the handsomest man in the world, says that during his last European trip he was impressed with the importance of places of amusement. He is satisfied that no city can thrive as it should without theatres, gardens, parks and the like. While the old folks are "tired," the young folks are seeking fun. Every city should make itself attractive.

John Locke King, member of Parliament for the city of London, is one of the most careless men as regards dress, generally wearing a suit of clothes of which his valet would be ashamed. One day King called upon the Duchess of ———. At the door he was confronted by a magnificent flunkey. "Is her Grace at home?" asked the distinguished visitor. "My good man," replied the flunkey, after surveying Mr. King for a while through his single eyeglasses, "do you think that her Grace would like to see a person of your appearance?" "Don't know; I'll see," replied Mr. King, and pushing by the flunkey, went upstairs, and sent his card to the Duchess.

BREAKFAST SUGGEST.
 Texas has over $2,000,000 in her treasury. Denver will put up $1,250,000 worth of new buildings in the next year. There are over 200,000 children in Alabama who do not attend school. The Chinese of Portland, Oregon, are assessed for $145,200 worth of real property. Cats are now bred in Paris that their heads may be used for ornamenting hats. The forge of the United States Arsenal at Watertown, Mass., is to be opened for the first time in ten years to alter twenty-five gun-carriages.

It is stated that the poisoning of the elephant at the Imperial Menagerie at Schonbrunn was effected by the use of 500 grains of prussic acid. He died in eight minutes. The prisoners in the jail at Gonzales, Tenn., have their own code of laws and

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published daily (Sundays excepted).
FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Prop'rs,
 At No. 26 and 2